Obituary of Mr. J. W. James.

CRAB ORCHARD, KY., FEB. 27.—On February 25th, near the sombre hour of midnight, the noble and generous spirit of J. W. James, the noblest man that ever lived in all the tide of Time, took its flight from his elegant home to a far more splendid mansion in the skies.

He was not yet 45 and no man, not even his lamented father, the late G. W. James, will be so sadly missed by the poor and humble. He has had many work hands in his service, and when any servant or ex-servant died, he always gave him appropriate burial at his own expense. When some poor black woman, sick and out of coal and provisions, both would be sent at his own expense in his own wagon.

On one occasion, a poor destitute man, (William Kidd) with a withered arm, passing his place of business with an empty meal sack on his shoulder, and a coffee-sack in which he had three hens, the only property he had in the world, stopped in to warm. Willie said, what have you there, Bill, a 'possum? No. How are 'possums? Mighty scarce. How are times with you? Mighty hard. I have in my coffee-sack my only three hens. The only things I have in the world. I am taking them to the store to buy me some meal and coffee. Look here at this paper and see what your hens are worth in the market—68 cents a piece. Take them back home to lay you some eggs, and take this dollar to buy you some coffee and meat, and take your meal sack up to my miller and tell him to fill it as full of meal as he can tie it. He gave more to preachers, churches, Sunday schools, Christmas trees, and to feed and clothe the poor, than any other man in Lincoln county.

Alas! how sad that one who had so often fed the hungry, should die hungry himself—because he could not eat! His donations to churches, Sunday schools and to charity amounted annually to the hundreds.

Frank Brooks said on the train to-day, "The death of Will James is the breaking up of the noblest family that ever lived in Lincoln county." His place here can never be supplied. His fortune was ample, his cash capital in the thousands, and his pockets always full to meet the demands of the borrower and the beggar. How much better this than millions to libraries for ostentation only, which do not benefit the poor people.

I never saw such universal sorrow expressed in all ranks of life. At his burying were the proud aristocrats and the poor tenant, working men and their wives and their little children shivering in the snow. At Stanford, Monday morning, much grief was expressed by such men as Cicero Reynolds, County Clerk George B. Cooper and the editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, all of whom had had business relations with him.

He was for some time clerk in the J. B. Owsley bank at Stanford, and was a devoted friend of this venerable financier, whose confidence he enjoyed. He was educated at Georgetown College, and though not gifted with the divine infatuation of lofty oratory, yet in a debate in that college when no doubt, he was competing with the Georgetown or Lexington bar, he took the prize in discussing whether or not circumstantial evidence should be admitted in the courts. His side of the debate was the affirmative. He was a fluent talker, an excellent penman and an accurate and rapid accountant. He was the fond idol of his mother and his relatives, male and female, loved him to idolatry. His aunt, Mrs. M. V. Sigler adored him as her own darling "Willie. Deceased was twice married. His first wife was Mattie Owsley Evans, daughter of the late George W. Evans, and his present wife was Margaret, daughter of the noble old Scotchman, the late John Buchanan. His wives were both most excellent women of the first families, and his last wife is noted for her domestic qualities. Like the great Washington, the deceased left no children, but all the poor of this community will ever regard him as a father, brother and friend. His grand old father, G. W. James, and devoted mother, Lizzie P. James, preceded him to the tomb some years ago. He leaves a most devoted wife to mourn his untimely death. His sisters, Mrs. Louanna Holdam, of Stanford, Mrs. Scott, of Somerset, and Mrs. Berta Morris, of Crab Orchard, are broken hearted with grief, fresh wounds no time can heal; and he left male and female relatives and friends who will never cease to mourn for him who never gave cause to mourn before. He was in many qualities the grandest man that ever moved in the track of time. Brave and noble, gallant and true! His poor little niece, Sue Beth James, and nephew, George Andrew James, dual orphans, whose father gave his life in service as a soldier in the far away Philippines, came up from Stanford to mingle their tears over the grave of the dear departed. All relatives and friends who are good enough will meet him again. Oh, shall we not strive to do so?

Rev. O. M. Huey made most beautiful and appropriate remarks at the residence to the large crowd assembled there, which at first fanned the flames of grief in talking of the noble dead and cruel Death, till it was almost unbearable, but at the close, with his soft expressions and beautiful language, he assuaged our grief to soft, soothing, sacred billows of sorrow, which we hope will softly slumber there forever! One by one our friends depart.

Who has not lost a friend? There is no union here of hearts,

But that union has an end. Farewell, dear Willie, we leave thee

With the new-fallen snow for a winding sheet.

And cold, bleak winter for a bier; And every clod beneath the mourner's feet

Moistened with a tear.

FONTAINE F. BOBBITT.

OTTENHEIM.

Some of our old citizens are predicting a fruit famine this year.

Andy Adams is preparing to move back to his cottage on Main street.

John Harris has bought the home place of his brother, George Harris, for $250.

Miss Rebecca Mullins, who has been on a vacation, will resume her school at this place Tuesday.

G. M. Ballard, who has been in this section for a few days on business, has returned to his home in Somerset, much to the regret of his old friends.

Mr. R. G. Collier, formerly of near here, has notified us that he wants to see more Ottenheim news, and as he is such a clever gentleman we will have to respond.

Matthew Johnson had his first auctioneer experience Wednesday, crying Cicero Lay's sale. "Mack," as his friends call him, did right well, everything bringing good prices.

Joseph Estes, whose sale was last Saturday, is preparing to start to New Albany, Ind., in a wagon which he has constructed for the journey. It resembles a threshing machine.

Mrs. Myrtle Manuel, who has been quite ill with a complication of troubles, doesn't seem to improve. Mrs. Calvin Pitman, of Indiana, is visiting friends and relatives in this section.

HUBBLE.

Mrs. Wm. Wilder is on the sick list.

T. C. Rankin lost a mule which was being broken. G. A. Swinebroad sold a pair of black mules for $335.

The bright little son of Mrs. Walter Mulkey died last Wednesday and was buried in Lancaster cemetery. She has the sympathy of the entire community in her bereavement.

Lee Rankin sold his hogs to Danville parties at 54c. L. P. Weaver sold his hogs to Lancaster dealers at 54c. R. G. Bratton has 90 cattle to which he is feeding fodder at 15c per shock.

In the absence of the pastor, Prof. J. E. Mannix, of Lancaster, conducted services at the Methodist church last Sunday. Eld. Tindler will fill his appointment at the Christian church Sunday afternoon.

E. B. Miller has received a letter from his son Frank, who has been clerking in a large dry goods store at Lebanon, Ind., stating that he has resigned his position and has accepted one with a wholesale shoe house, which gives him a salary of $60 per month and expenses. J. W. Eubanks remains in a critical condition. Mrs. J. P. Buckley, of Kingman, O., is at his bedside. Mrs. Sink has returned to her home in Lexington after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Carman.

Afflicted With Rheumatism.

"I was and am yet afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. C. Blyne, editor of the Herald, Addington, Indiana Territory, "but thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm am able once more to attend to business. It is the best of liniments." If troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. One application relieves the pain. For sale by Dr. W. N. Craig, the popular druggist at Stanford, Ky.

Through the efforts of William S. Miller, a prominent local real estate man and an old resident of Lancaster, the former Kentuckians of Knoxville have organized a Kentucky Club and are preparing to send a big delegation to Louisville for Home-coming Week, June 13 to 17.

Clears the Complexion.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates and thoroughly cleanses the system and clears the complexion of pimples and blotches. It is the best laxative for women and children as it is mild and pleasant, and does not gripe or sicken. Orino is much superior to pills, aperient waters and all ordinary cathartics as it does not irritate the stomach and bowels. Penny's Drug Store.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of our dear little William Mulkey, who died Feb. 20, 1906:

In childhood we were together,
But now so much alone,
Since William, our little baby,
Has left our happy home.

Oh it is so lonesome without William
We miss him everywhere,
We miss him at the table
When we see his vacant chair.

One more home left sad and lonely,
One more body laid to rest,
Till the final trumpet sounds
And the graves give up their dead.

There will be a golden crown awaiting for each faithful servant.

"We must make some sacrifice," said the senior partner, who was an old-time financier. "We must make sacrifices or go to the wall."

The new man in the firm rubbed his chin gloomily for a minute or more, but his face brightened when the inspiration came.

"Good!" he cried. "We will make sacrifices of our creditors!"

It will not cost you a cent to try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and they are excellent for stomach troubles and constipation. Get a free sample at Dr. W. N. Craig's, the popular druggist at Stanford, Ky.

"I fear that you'll soon forget me," faltered the young girl.

The VanArsdall sale near here was well attended. The VanArsdalls left Sunday for Boyle county. They are clever people and will be much missed in the Pleasant Point section.

James Florence and a young man by the name of Patterson gave a performance at Reynolds' Hall Friday evening. They had a poor house, however, having failed in all probability to sufficiently advertise beforehand.

There is a great deal of sickness just now and our two good doctors are kept very busy and to seriously complicate matters both are indisposed, Dr. Acton being threatened with pneumonia and Dr. Thompson suffering with lumbago.

A. L. Green, who is a first rate carpenter, will shortly begin work on the addition to the school house and will later commence the erection of a new school building at Pleasant Point, where two districts have been thrown together.

Miss Laura Dye's school celebrated Washington's birthday with a very creditable entertainment. Miss Dye will go to Bowling Green to attend the normal school after her term closes here, which will be in a few weeks. Her sister, Miss Elizabeth Dye, will also take a course at Bowling Green.

Eld. J. G. Livingston, of Crab Orchard, filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and evening, preaching excellent sermons. The congregation in the morning was lamentably small but was better at the evening service. We are not alone in wishing Bro. Livingston to re-deliver his sermon of Sunday morning at his next appointment here. Kingsville never had a better preacher than Bro. Livingston.

Mrs. Bud Gooch and son, Estill, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. W. L. McCarty, at Stanford. ## A Favorite Remedy for Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by Dr. W. N. Craig, the popular druggist at Stanford, Ky.

With trembling fingers the sorrowing father opened a small box which had just been left by the postman. When the lid was removed there lay revealed a boy's shoe, part of a cravat, a ring, and a collar button.

"Alas!" cried the grief-stricken old man, gazing on the fragments, "I always feared that Clarence couldn't stand the hazing."—Judge.

Do Not Be Imposed Upon.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. Penny's Drug Store.

"Who is your favorite character in modern American history?"

"Thomas C. Platt, sir."

And why?

"He resigned an office once, by honky!"

The Interior Journal.

E. C. WALTON.

ANOTHER MILESTONE PASSED.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL is 34 years old to-day. A generation has born and died since its establishment in 1872 and it still goes on its semi-weekly mission of disseminating news and spreading knowledge, with malice towards none and charity for all. What a volume of history has it written in those 34 years, of how many pleasant and how many sad events it has told one can hardly imagine! When F. J. Campbell, now editor of the Somerset Journal, conceived the idea of starting the paper and carried it into effect, he builded wiser than he knew, for he laid the foundation of an enterprise that was destined from a small beginning to grow and wax strong, and to-day, thanks to the best constituency that ever blessed a newspaper, it is a power in the land, always for good we hope and intend.

Our older readers will remember that in 1875 the paper was bought by our brother, who after a few years changed it from a weekly to a semi-weekly, one of the first papers in the State to be so issued. Away back in the '80s, the writer then a mere youth, recently orphaned, came to Stanford to live and soon became infatuated with type setting and other newspaper work, and finally decided to adopt the business as his life work. As compositor, foreman, local editor and business manager, we did what we could to contribute to the paper's success, which was always dear to our heart, and when in 1900, we came into full possession of it by purchase, we felt that we had not striven in vain. During our complete charge we have worked early and late to make the INTERIOR JOURNAL a credit to its home and to the State and how well we have succeeded we leave to our patrons to say. Thanking them for their indulgence and help, and promising renewed efforts to make the "cheapest" in deed and in truth, "the best," we will continue to write the history of yesterday, nothing extenuating or setting down aught in malice.

At a meeting of the House Investigating Committee, it was voted that there is no foundation for the charges preferred or implied against the management of the State School of Reform at Lexington, and that the records of the institution are in good order and correct, as far as shown. The resolution setting this forth was an oral one, presented by Representative George Wilson, secretary of the commission, and there was no opposition to it. The investigation was made at the urgent request of Mr. W. P. Walton, who has been a trustee of the institution since it was opened.

A SAMPLE of communion wine was found by a New York expert to contain wood alcohol, hard cider and aniline coloring. Fortunately communicants do not take enough to hurt them, but if there is a hell, and we are satisfied there is, a very warm spot is reserved in it for those who would adulterate wine to be used for such a purpose.

J. H. STETSON, the Philadelphia man who made his money manufacturing hats, didn't leave a cent of his five millions to charity, and certain people are now saying many mean things about him, forgetting that the hat maker may have thought that the sweetest of charities begin at home.

It is dangerous to go to Sunday school in certain portions of Bell county. In a fight at one on Clear Fork, John Pearson shot and fatally wounded Hiram Paris. The dispute arose over the Sunday school lesson. Better close the school until missionaries can do some work there.

OF course Congressman Blackburn, of North Carolina, indicted for the charge of having practiced before the Treasury Department and receiving fees therefore in violation of the Federal laws, is a Republican. Southern Democrats are made of better material.

ONE of the wedding presents to the Longworths was a car of anthracite. If the strike comes and lasts this may then prove the most valuable of their more than a million dollars' worth of gifts.

SAN FRANCISCO wants to celebrate a birthday in 1913 with a world's fair. These world's fairs are now getting too promiscuous. Suppose we call a halt after the Jamestown exposition?

POLITICAL.

The gubernatorial boom of Senator W. H. Cox, of Mason county, will be launched at a banquet in Frankfort next week.

Sweeping election reforms are provided in a bill introduced by Senator LaFollette. The acceptance of corporation money is absolutely prohibited.

The House at Washington passed the Dalzell bill, incorporating the Lake Erie and Ohio River Canal Company, with an authorized capitalization of $60,000,000.

The House committee assuming the threat of the rectifiers that they would leave the State to be a bluff, allowed the tax to remain at one and one-half cents per gallon on rectified spirits.

Three living ex-Auditors of the State of Indiana and the estates of six who have died are to be sued in the name of the State for the recovery of fees alleged to have been illegally collected.

Senator Tillman is in South Carolina looking after his senatorial fences. The Senator is supporting the present State dispensary law, and he will make this the issue in his campaign for reelection.

The fifth annual convention of what is known as the student volunteer movement convened at Nashville, the attendance reaching nearly 5,000, representing practically the world's missionary field.

It is stated authoritatively that Kentucky will get four $100,000 Federal buildings under the Buildings Bill, which will be reported soon. The lucky towns are Mayfield, Owensboro, Bowling Green and Winchester.

According to Samuel H. Cohen, of Texas, who is supposed to be one of the best-informed men on rate legislation in the country, the Hepburn bill does not limit the jurisdiction of the courts, and for this reason should receive the unqualified support of all democrats.

A Washington dispatch says that John W. Yerkes may retire if Petty is allowed to continue as postmaster at Shelbyville. Not on your life. Mr. Yerkes belongs to the class of those of whom it is said few die and that none resign. If he ever goes out it will be at the toe of the President's boot.—Frankfort Journal.

Democratic members of both houses of Congress are discussing the question as to a successor to Chairman Cowherd, of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. The candidates so far announced are Representative Griggs, of Georgia, and Representative Flood, of Virginia. Mr. Griggs conducted the campaign for the party for the Fifty-eighth Congress.

The Dominican treaty was favorably reported to the Senate. Briefly the treaty provides for the adjustment of the claims against the Dominican republic under the supervision of the United States. This Government is to take charge of the customs houses and collect the revenues, pay 45 per cent. to the Dominican republic and withhold 55 per cent., the latter amount to be used to liquidate the debts of the republic.

G. B. Burhans Testifies After Four Years.

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney and bladder trouble. ### Dangers of Pneumonia.

A cold at this time if neglected is liable to cause pneumonia which is so often fatal, and even when the patient has recovered the lungs are weakened, making them peculiarly susceptible to the development of consumption. DIAMOND WHITE'S TRADE MARK PURITY GUARANTEED.

A peculiar property that distinguishes White's Concentrated from all other mineral waters is its certain and positive action upon the liver and kidneys, the two joint organs through whose means the whole system is kept in a healthy condition. This water is a certain cure for Dyspepsia, Constipation, Headache and all diseases caused by a Torpid Liver.

Read what the late Dr. Luke P. Blackburn, whose reputation as a physician and philanthropist is world wide, said in regard to this water in tardy motives and constipation of the bowels:

"It excels all other remedies known to the profession. Crab Orchard Concentrated Water will cure more diseases than any remedy I ever used."

To Whom It May Concern: I have used Crab Orchard Concentrated Water and Salts in my practice for 40 years and I consider them the finest remedies on the market as a laxative and purgative and when taken in broken doses a good alternative for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Constipation. It is an excellent remedy.

A WORD TO YOU.—The people of a community, in order to be prosperous and happy, must pull together in every movement inaugurated for the betterment of their town. Fault-finders and kickers against improvements, along all lines, never do themselves or their fellow men any good whatever, and those who have the up-building of their communities at heart and are doing what they can to accomplish something, should not stop to listen to those who are trying to pull them back.

THE Foreign Missionary Rally at the Christian church drew a good crowd yesterday and a most interesting program was carried out. Most of the prominent speakers from a distance, who promised to take part, were present and the day was spent both pleasantly and profitably. The ladies set a splendid dinner, which was heartily partaken of. A full report will appear in our next issue.

ON exhibition in the window of the store of Thomas N. Lindsey, 556 Fourth avenue, is an oil painting done by Harris W. Coleman, twelve years of age. The canvas is four and one-half by three feet and is a mountain scene at night, with the likeness of a skulking mountain wolf in the foreground. The figure of the animal stands out on a bank of snow, and the time, judging from the wolfish expression, has come for the wild dog to howl at the moon that is rising. The brush work is well done and the coloring is good, especially when the age of the young artist is taken into consideration. Harris Coleman is the son of C. R. Coleman, of Eastern Kentucky. He has had the advantage of two years of study at the Art School at Stanford, Ky.—Courier-Journal. Master Harris is a student of Miss Charlotte Warren, who informs us that he has been taking art lessons less than two years. Miss Warren is justly proud of her apt pupil, who is destined to become a great artist.

THE famous Donnelly and Hatfield Minstrels, under the direction of Al G. Field, will appear at the Danville Opera House next Tuesday evening, March 6. The press far and wide has given excellent "after notices" of this company, many of them styling it as the best minstrel on the road. Any one who knows Tommy Donnelly, who is among the corps of excellent comedians, will grant this. One of the features of the Donnelly-Hatfield performances is its monologues and in their performance will be a double monologue by Tommy Donnelly and Harry C. Shunk, both of whom have been associated with Al Field for years, and both of whom have made reputations as monologist artists of the highest class. This company carries 40 people and a band playing all the latest music of the day. The prices for the performances will be 50c, 75c and $1, and seats may be secured in advance by telephoning Adams & Embury. Call Danville No. 31.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Garley Burton was fined $50 for assault and battery. His attorney asked for a new trial and Judge Bell has the matter under consideration. Vite Floyd, $25 for striking and wounding. L. V. Floyd, for malicious shooting, $50. William Taylor carrying concealed weapons, $25 and 10 days in jail. Oz Anderson, $50 for malicious shooting. James H. Carter, Sr., acquitted of selling whisky illegally. J. R. Beazley, acquitted of the charge of running his traction engine recklessly over pikes. E. A. Reichenbach, charged with malicious shooting, was acquitted. The appeal from the county court of Dr. W. H. Hughes was dismissed. It is understood that Judge R. C. Warren will grant him a new trial. Granville Saylor was tried on the charge of arson and was given 10 years in the penitentiary. Saylor bribed John Stephens, the main witness in the case, and Judge Bell fined them $30 each and sent them to jail for 30 hours. The cases of the Commonwealth against Jas. H. Carter, Jr., and R. E. L. Sims were continued until next court on motion of the defendants. James Carter, Jr., John Bastin, James McGuffey and Craig Butt were fined $50 each for cutting off the tail of a cow belonging to Lilburn Padgett. George Farris, for killing Bill Dunn, also colored, is on trial.

A Lincoln County Lady Tells About Texas.

CLIFTON, TEXAS, FEB. 26.—Having been in Texas for some time, I decided to write something about my trip. Mother and I left home October 9th to visit my cousin, Dr. J. C. Carpenter, of Clifton, Texas. We left expecting to spend about six weeks. I was a little prejudiced about Texas. Had an idea it was a terrible place, and felt that I could not possibly stay longer, but must admit I have been very agreeably surprised. The people whom I have met are very refined, cultured people, and in hospitality, even Kentucky cannot excel.

Clifton is near the geographical center, situated in North Bosque Valley. Has about 1,800 to 2,000 inhabitants, 25 business houses, all built of stone and brick, two flouring mills, capacity 200 barrels per day; two large lumber yards, three cotton gins, five churches, one high school, one Lutheran college. All these buildings are up-to-date in every particular. Then they have water works and electric lights. The river is about a mile from the town. They catch some very fine fish, weighing from five to 35 pounds. The soil is black and waxy. They raise most everything here that we do in Kentucky, but the principal crops are wheat, oats and cotton. They raised fine cotton last year and sold it for 10 to 12 1/2 cents, or a "bit," as they call it. The climate is perfectly delightful. We have had no cold weather this winter. It is now like spring time, peach and plum trees in bloom; good many have planted their gardens; farmers are planting corn.

I spent a month in Mitchell county last fall. That is about 400 miles west. The country is altogether different from this. The land is sandy and a prairie country. You can see for miles. The chief production is corn, milo, and cotton. They raise a great many cattle. I went to a cattle ranch to see them round up cattle and brand them. Saw one herd of 5,000. Most of the cattle are Herefords. I also saw lots of little prairie dogs, blue quail and wild ducks, mule-eared rabbits, etc.

But all those poisonous insects and reptiles which I had heard so much about, I have never been fortunate enough to see. I went to see the salt works at Colorado City. It was quite a curiosity to me to see them make salt. They ship salt from there to almost every State in the union. It would be useless for me to try to tell all I have seen and what I think of Texas, but will say I think this a grand and glorious State. But, like all Kentuckians, I look each week to the arrival of the INTERIOR JOURNAL and peruse each column with interest.

Always Keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the House.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept on hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by Dr. W. N. Craig, the popular druggist at Stanford, Ky.

FOR SALE.—About 41 acres of land one mile from Crab Orchard, Ky., on Lancaster pike. A good dwelling, well and all necessary outbuildings. Place is right on pike. This is a good home and a cheap place. The owner of this property lives at Henderson, Ky., and has made up his mind to sell. It can be bought at a bargain. For price, etc., see or write L. R. Hughes, Stanford, Ky.

Spring Shoes!

To Delight the Eye and Comfort the Feet.

There are two necessary requisites at most any time of the year, but more so in spring, you know that after a cold and cheerless winter we gladly welcome the newness of life that the beautiful spring season brings with it. We like to lay aside our dull and heavy garments and don something new and bright that will delight the eye and bring cool comfort to the body.

Here you find everything new and attractive as well as comfortable, and Low Priced, Stylish Clothing, Shoes and Oxfords and Gent's Furnishings and Dry Goods.

You know that we stand behind the goods that we sell whatever it may be. We want to sell you your entire spring outfit, and after a careful inspection of our stock you will be as eager to buy as we are to sell.

Prices, well always as low as a legitimate store can afford to make them.
